

Get online not in line

Congratulations on the purchase of your new vehicle. You may be able to skip the line at the DMV by registering online at dmvnev.com/edrs. You can transfer your current license plates or get new plates by mail. It's quick, easy and, best of all, no lines!

Qualifications

Use the DMV's online registration if all of the following apply:

- The Electronic Dealer, Rebuilder or Lessor's Report of Sale or Lease (EDRS) has printed below the logo "This vehicle may qualify for online registration, please visit www.dmvnev.com."
- The EDRS lists your valid Nevada Driver's License Number for individuals or a Federal Employer Identification Number for businesses.
- The dealer has issued a valid Emissions Vehicle Inspection Report (when needed).
- You have obtained Nevada insurance on the vehicle from a company licensed in Nevada.

How It Works

- Have your EDRS and Nevada Evidence of Insurance card ready, log on to www.dmvnev.com/edrs and click Online Registration – Start Here. You have the option to create a MyDMV account to access all of your driver license and vehicle registration records in one place.
- You may pay registration fees by e-check, debit or credit card. Veterans exemptions are accepted.
- To transfer plates, your name on the EDRS must match the name on the current registration for those plates.
- If you are transferring plates, any credit on your existing registration will be applied to the new registration. You may transfer plates up to 18 months after they have expired.
- Your vehicle will be registered immediately upon successful completion. If transferring plates, the registration on your old vehicle is surrendered.
- A temporary permit prints with your receipt. Tape this in the lower right-hand corner of the windshield and keep the receipt in the vehicle.
- Your Registration Certificate and Validation Decal will arrive at the address listed on the EDRS in four to seven days.
- If you are receiving new plates, they will arrive separately in seven to 10 days.

Limitations

Sorry, but you must register your vehicle in person at a Nevada DMV office if:

- The EDRS does not list a Nevada Driver's License number or FEIN, or the number is incorrect.
- Your name is misspelled or you need to change your address.
- You want to use a tribal or farmer/rancher exemption.
- You want new personalized plates or plates that require special qualifications.
- You wish to transfer certain license plate styles such as antique or classic vehicles.
- You wish to use credits other than a credit on license plates being transferred.
- Your vehicle is a motor home or trailer.
- Your physical address on your Nevada driver's license on file with the DMV is in Clark or Washoe County and you want to base your vehicle in a different county.
- You currently have a Revenue Recovery case, Insurance Verification sanction, or parking tickets.
- The gross vehicle weight rating of the vehicle is 26,001 pounds or more.
